Air Freight Logistics

When it comes to Air Freight Logistics, every SEKO office has the same goal - to provide outstanding service and competitive pricing. Our experience helps us meet those goals, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

“Thank you for the outstanding job on the critical direct shipment for Pfizer last week. Don and Scott were all over it on Thursday evening, working past midnight to ensure that the logistics were all in place for the shipment. Then Chris providing updates all day, and right back to Scott on Friday evening providing PODs late into the night. Your entire team at SEKO did a wonderful job and exceeded all expectations.”

Routing Specialists

Our value added services are managed by experienced Routing Specialists who will ask you when the freight needs to arrive and then tailor the service accordingly. If there's flexibility in your delivery date, then our expertise in international markets can save you even more money. And if your freight is on a tight deadline - we supplement our commercial lift with dedicated and part-charter flights that will offer you any aircraft, from nearly anywhere to nearly anywhere, carrying nearly anything!

Communication First, Last and Always

The key to our success is proactive communication with a personal touch. Our specialists will walk you through the entire process, keeping you involved and informed. As a 100% customer centric organisation, only SEKO can give you this kind of superior service at such competitive rates.

International Air Services

Relationships with Select Partners

At SEKO, we've concentrated on forming long term relationships with selected worldwide airlines and cartage companies, and through these Select Partner alliances, we are able to negotiate the best pricing available. In our most critical market areas we have 'blocked space' agreements in place that guarantee us capacity during both low and high seasons, with the flexibility to expand or contract these commitments based on customer need.

Compliance

We work with you to maintain Global compliance for air exports and imports all around the world. In doing so, SEKO becomes more than just a service provider, but rather your true supply chain partner. We'll continue to provide our customized support as you increase your number of sourcing countries, or as you expand your customer base around the globe.

Complex Documentation Made Simple

We're committed to providing you with flawless service and fewer headaches. That means handling specialized documentation for shipping to certain countries, such as those in the Middle East. We provide certificates of origin and registration, letters of credit and much more. We even do banking.

"As always, SEKO once again came through for us when the package had to be there . . . I know I can always count on you and I can go home and let you handle it. That is priceless. Thanks again."
