

Services for Energy

As one of the best kept secrets in the industry, SEKO has quietly built a Global infrastructure which tackles some of the biggest supply chain challenges for energy clients around the world.

We now provide project cargo and inbound supplier management, as well as distribution solutions, for clients in the oil & gas, mining and renewable energy sectors.

Oil & Gas Logistics

With eight branches in Texas and Oklahoma alone, SEKO has been providing supply chain solutions to the energy sector in the United States for years. The opening of our new office in Houston, as well as continued Global expansion in key markets such as Scotland, North Africa and the Middle East, means that SEKO is becoming a Global player for oil & gas clients.

Mining Projects

SEKO continues to expand in key markets such as South Africa, Chile, China, Australia and the East Africa region, to service the mining sector.

Renewable Energy

We also have numerous solar and wind clients, as this energy sector continues to develop rapidly around the world. With our extensive Global network of warehouses, we can cost-effectively service your distribution channels, wherever your clients are.

Our services for the energy sector include:

- Regulatory compliance programs
- Superior communication protocols
- Air, ocean and ground transportation
- Border clearances
- Air charters
- Project cargo
- Security moves and armed escorts
- Coordination of deliveries to meet fielding teams at extraction sites worldwide
- Web-based visibility worldwide
- Time definite deliveries
- Specialized equipment
- Industry sector specialists in USA, Africa, China and Australia

Project Cargo

Our knowledge and experience in the area of large and complicated projects makes us the right choice when shipping the heaviest and largest freight. For each request, we will consult with you to determine every last detail and requirement before implementation.

SEKO can handle any type of cargo, regardless of lot size. Each project is planned down to the last detail, extremely well cared for and carries a guarantee of safety, surety and rigorously adhered-to deadlines. We have the necessary extensive expert knowledge at our disposal, as well as direct contact with specialized first-class carriers, allowing us to perform meticulously and responsibly at all times.

“With SEKO Logistics as our outsourced partner for inventory management and distribution, we can better manage our cash flow with a transactional business model that is scalable to our needs.”
