Services for Technology

SEKO delivers customizable and secure logistics solutions for the high tech, telecommunications and consumer electronics industries. We provide speed to market for your high value electronics and hardware, with the care and white glove service that you demand.

From Global air freight supply chains to highly technical assembly, distribution and time-definite deliveries, SEKO offers a suite of supply chain solutions for the technology sector.

Retail Distribution for Consumer Electronics

We provide end-to-end supply chain solutions for the consumer electronics industry. From inbound air and ocean consolidation solutions, DC bypass programs, eCommerce fulfillment and retail store distributions, SEKO is your outsourced logistics partner.

“Just wanted to express my sincere gratitude for your help this morning. You provided the solution quickly and efficiently, and this is one of the reasons I LOVE working with SEKO! Thank you again – your customer service was fantastic and appreciated!”

POS Equipment Distribution and Replenishment

Complex paperwork, language difficulties or cultural barriers are all a thing of the past, as SEKO whisks your shipment from the dock, through customs and onto a truck for delivery to its final destination. We handle everything seamlessly.

Contract Manufacturing Support

SEKO provides fulfillment solutions and third party warehousing for electronic component manufacturers in Asia, Europe and North America. With our data integration services, we can also communicate with your ERP systems, giving you visibility of your orders in real time, as they come through.

High Tech Logistics Management with SEKO MedTec

With SEKO MedTec, we have developed a highly specialized logistics solution which is focused exclusively on the high tech and medical device industries. SEKO MedTec provides dedicated program management for demonstration equipment, finished goods and returns, as well as contract logistics and fulfillment services.

Our engineering, transportation and software expertise is backed up by our control towers, knowledgeable staff and shared facilities - with clean rooms around the world for your high tech hardware and equipment. We also offer warehousing, relocation and white glove installation support for your servers, hardware and telecommunications equipment.

Reverse Logistics

For electronics, hardware and equipment that needs to be replenished or replaced, we offer full reverse logistics programs anywhere in the world. In addition, we also provide environmentally friendly recycling options for high tech equipment, with full documentation and support.

We Specialize in Special Handling

SEKO offers all sorts of project cargo services, including break bulk and RO/RO. We also deal in all manner of sizes and weights for specialized cargo, including server racks and displays.

Inbound Supplier Management

We facilitate more streamlined supply chains by helping you to measure lead times, fulfillments and shipment information from your overseas and local vendors. When you need to keep your production line on schedule and with no delays, count on SEKO to help you manage your suppliers effectively.
